“Equine Centre Seminar”

Horse owners, trainers and enthusiasts are all welcome to attend!

Join us at the University of Melbourne's Veterinary Teaching hospital to hear talks from two of the world's leading veterinarians in the field of equine sports medicine. Dr. Rachel Murray is a specialist equine surgeon and orthopaedic researcher from the United Kingdom who works closely with the British Olympic team on lameness prevention and physical therapy. Dr. Emmanuelle van Erck is an equine sports medicine specialist who works throughout Europe on the fitness and cardiorespiratory health of some of the region's best horses competing in a range of disciplines. Joining these two speakers will be Dr. Luke Wells-Smith, a qualified farrier and equine veterinarian and Dr. Chris Whitton from the University of Melbourne Equine Centre.

Date: Friday, April 10th 2015

Venue: The University of Melbourne's Veterinary Teaching Hospital

250 Princes Hwy Werribee 3030
