

Seminar for Coaches

Peter De Cosemo

BHSI, BD judge

Peter De Cosemo is a BHSI and BD judge. He was one of the youngest people to gain the coveted BHSI certificate aged 22 and went on to be a Senior Examiner for the British Horse Society.

For many years Peter was manager and advanced instructor for Olympic riders, Christopher and Jane Bartle, at the Yorkshire Riding Centre. Having now returned from living in the USA where he has taught, trained and competed to FEI levels for approximately 15 years, he is starting to offer clinics around the world.

In Peter's clinics his enjoyment of teaching and developing lifelong riding skills is clear. His number one priority is the physical and mental well being of the horse throughout the training process and competitive career.

One doesn't have to spend much time watching Peter teach...to recognize his brilliance.

Having been a student of his for the past 15 years, I feel qualified to speak on the topic.

The simplicity of his method is deceiving.

There is so much thought, so much science, and so much practical experience blended together to produce a thoughtful, kind, and predictably successful system of training all horses. I have seen him work with the most simple of equines, and the most talented.

I am personally most impressed when I watch Peter mould an average beast into a light-footed and sparkling example of what dressage is supposed to be. For those who have been lucky enough to work with Peter, it is impossible to find suitable help elsewhere.

An entertaining and educational instructor, a talented and tactful horseman, Peter is an inspiration and sets a standard to which we should all aspire.

Alex Jakob-Whitworth, Cumbria UK

A clinic with Peter will give any coach a clarity that they can pass on to their pupils and awaken in them the confidence and excitement for the future, that only a good foundation can create.
